one simple thing is to ask your doctor to check your vitamin d level (get a 25-oh vitamin d) tests may indicate that one part of the immune system is normal while another part is impaired what I don't realize is if truth be told how you are not really a lot more well-liked than you might be right now